WE HAVE only time and space to-day to call the attention of the legislature to the resolution of the bar meeting, yesterday, in regard to the proposed abolishment of the second chancery and second circuit courts. The intelligence of the bar of Memphis is a guarantee that its members know what they need in the way of courts, and the integrity on all questions which, as a body, they have ever manifested, should be satisfactory of their honesty in this or any other of equal importance. ANOTHER ASSESSMENT BILL. This morning an assessment bill was introduced by Mr. Overton. It provides that in the exemptions from taxation all property belonging to religious, charitable, scientific, literary, agricultural or educational institutions are omitted and made taxable, except public or free-school property. All notes, due-bills, etc., for the payment of which real estate is pledged, are exempted where the real estate is taxed. Real estate to be assessed every fifth year, on the same basis of value prescribed for personal property. One assessor to be appointed for each county, with power to appoint deputies; in cities of over twenty thou-sand inhabitants an additional assessor to be appointed for city property the as-sessment made to be for State county and city purposes; the expenses to be paid by county and city jointly. The assessor of real estate to be appointed in July or October, 1875, for the assessment of 1876, and every fifth year thereafter. The personal-property assessor to be appointed in January each year. A county board of equalization is provided for, to consist of ten freeholders, and its duties defined. The assessors have power to subpoense witnesses, and administer oaths. Banks and corporations to be assessed as heretofore, with the privilege of returning in the name of the corporation as one item, instead of to the several stockholders, in which case the a sessed value of the real estate is to be deducted. Goods sold on commission to be reported, and a tax levied on gross commissions, once every three months. Merchants to return the average stock of goods for taxation, and in addition thereto all other assets, after deducting liabilities, on which they pay an ad valorem tax, but no privilege tax. Oaths and penalties on real estate assessments are repealed; oaths on returns of personal property are repealed. The clerks of county courts are required to keep a book of all transfers, showing all changes of ownership of real estate occurring in the county, and to provide and keep a book of ownership of real estate, from which the tax-books for the intervening years, between years of regular assssments, are to be made out. All penalties for non-payment of taxes now fixed by law and repealed, and a regular penalty of two per cent. for each month enacted. All laws for the sale of real estate for non-payment of taxes are suspended for the taxes of 1875, 1876 and 1877, and thereafter no sale to be made for less than three years of accumulated taxes on any one piece of property due and unpaid. In the meantime, the penalty of two per cent. per month is accumulating, and all delinquencies are kept alive and in the hands of the collector. In the month of July, each year, the collectors of taxes report all unpaid taxes, and they are to be taken up and rechecked on the new tax books, under the head of "forfeited lands." All the tax books to remain in the office of the collector, and to be turned over to his successor in The city authorities may elect to have the city taxes collected by the county collector, but may provide its own collector when economy demands it; but no city collector to be allowed a greater commission than allowed by

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

The chief features in the proceedings of the Federal senate yesterday were the passage of several departmental appro-priation bills. The resolutions of the Missouri legislature in reference to the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi river were presented and referred.

The posteffice appropriation bili was discussed at length, and several amendments adopted, all looking to a resumption of the franking privilege, when the senate took up the Pacific mail subsidy matter, and adjourned pending its dis-cussion. In the house the river and harbor appropriation bill, in the main as heretofore published, was passed. The gross amount of appropriation is about six million dollars, not including appro-priations for special purposes. A bill to indict William S. King for perjury, in his connection with the Pacific mail subsidy swindle, passed the house. The Texas Pacific railway bill was virtually lefeated by the failure to suspend the the southern claims commission was

LOUISIANA MATTERS. WASHINGTON, February 22. - The Louisiana Conservative delegation had a very long interview with Mr. Wheeler and his committee this morning, and subsequently with the President, to whom they were introduced by Colonel Casey. The conclusion reached by Mr. Wheeler's committee is withheld until it has the approval of the President, without which it will be of no force. Should the President approve of the proposition agreed upon by the delegation its terms will be telegraphed to the Conservative caucus now in session in New Orleans for its sanction.

culties. which Lieutenant-Governor Penn and other prominent Louisianians have come to Washington to effect, and which was presented to the President this morning, is substantially as follows:

The Conservatives object to the congressional committee assuming jurisdiction concerning the elections of 1872 and 1874, which were separate and entirely different. It is agreed that members of the legislature elected in 1874 can give pledges and guarantees the most ample and positive for their own action, and the people will assent to let Kellogg alone, ebey the laws, and accord the de facto government recognition as long as the President sustains the Kellogg party in office. If, on the other hand, the Conservatives cannot get the results of 1872, or so much as the congressional committee decide they are entitled to, they will not admit the legality of the Kellogg election, nor will they consent to express doubts as to what they be-lieve are the legal results of the election of 1872, but as this question has perplexed the President and congress, and both the executive and the legislative branches of the government hesitate to act upon it, it is not just to expect the caucus of Conservative members of the Louisiana State legislature to settle it. The Conservatives further claim that they should not be required to recognize the illegal Hahn house organization, and thus indorse or acquiesce in the acts of the fourth of January. As a further act of good faith, the Conservatives agree not to press the Wiltz organization upon the Republicans, but are willing that neither should be insisted upon, and let the members declared by arbitration reorganize the house. The Louisiana congressional delegation, with the exception of Senator West, have approved the proposed compromise. WHAT RADICAL SENATORS PROPOSE To Do.

The Republican senators held a caucus this morning. In order of business, they come to no formal understanding, but the general impression is that they will first act upon the general appropria-tion bills before them, then the house civil rights bill and Pinchback's case. Tney do not think there is any probability of an extra legislative session, as all necessary public business is in such a state of forwardness that it can be transacted before the termination of this congress. Owing to the attendance at the caucus of Republican senators, none of While laborers were pulling down an old building, 120 First avenue, New the committees called for to-day had quorums. There was, therefore, no meeting of the senate railroad committee, and no action taken on Scott's Texas and Pacide bill.

THE CAMPAIGN OF 176. The Ohio Republicans in Washington, recognizing that the coming election in Ohio - ill be the opening of the Presidential campaign in 1876, met at the residence of Secretary Delano, and after the interchange of views, determined upon an early opening, and vigorous and aggressive campaign in Ohio. Committees were appointed to co-operate with the State executive committee, at Columbus, to prepare for

ARKANSAS AND OTHER THINGS. Various members of the house have prepared speeches on the Arkansas question, which will be considered during the present week; both parties to the controversy are severally gathering their strength. The committee on war claims have acted adversely on the bill directing the secretary of the treasury to pay indemnity to the owners of the Philo Parsons and Island Queen, for losses occasioned by the unlawful seizure of these steamers by a piratical expedition on Lake Erie in September, 1864. There is no probability of either the house or senate telegraph bill passing during the present congress. MEXICAN VETERANS.

The house, in com-mittee of the whole, adopted the following amendment to the tax bill in reference to the tobacco tax, which is the same as the one adopted in reference to the whisky tax: "Provided, further, that whenever it shall be shown by testimony under oath, to the satisfaction of the secretary of the treasury, that any person able to pay the in-creased tax by this act imposed had, prior to the tenth day of February, 1875, made a contract for the future delivery of such tobacco, it may be delivered to the contracting party entitled thereto inder special permit from the commis-ioner of internal revenue provided STEWART, HAYLEY & CO herefor, without the previous payment of such additional tax; but the said ad-

CHICAGO, February 22.—This morning at three o'clock a fire broke out in the dry-house of Wahl Bros.' works, located on Thirty-first street and Inneaster avenue. The building coves eight acres, and was almost competely destroyed, together with the rules so as to set apart to-morrow evening for its consideration. The bill authorizing the payment of the awards of dollars, but insurance men say it will passed. The award amounts to about not exceed two hundred and fifty thousaven hundred and fifty thousand dol-iars. There was some difficulty in making the alarm understood and the fire had made considerable headway before the engines arrived. The inflammable character of the buildings caused the flames to spread very rapidly. Nothing was saved except the office, two ice-houses, parts of the refuse and cork-houses, and the books and papers. There were twenty buildings in all. There are various theories as to the cause of the fire, but the generally accepted one is that the dry-house was overheated.
